Potty training can be one of the most stressful times of parenting during the toddler stage, but it something that must be done. Sometimes the longer we put it off, the worse it is for everyone involved. And let's face it; diapers and wipes are expensive, so the earlier you can potty train the easier the strain on your budget, too. The three-day method can work with children that are as young as fifteen months old. There are signs that a child is ready for potty training (see the chapter outlining these signs), and as long as the child is exhibiting a fair amount of these signs, it is appropriate to start the potty training process. The three-day process is also most successful on kids younger than twenty-eight months and usually the closer to three a child gets the less likely the method is to work (again see the section on readiness signs for children).
